WOMEN STABBED TO DEATH

Man Adjudged Sane by Doctors

Sanity Hearing Is Held During Trial of 55-Year-Old Man

Four Physicians Testify George W. Davis of Sound Mind

NEW JURY ORDERED Many Spectators Throng Court Room to Hear Unusual Case

ASHDOWN, July 16.—A jury in a special sanity hearing for George W. Davis, 55, whose trial for the slaying of his 54-year-old bride was held in Little River county circuit court here Tuesday when he appeared under an apparent rancorous stupor, found him sane after 10 minutes deliberations Tuesday afternoon.

Four physicians, two of whom were selected by each side, testified that Davis' peculiar actions and the character which he began immediately after being brought into the courtroom was a "sham," and that they found him to be of sound mind.

The physicians investigated the defendant under observation for about two hours questioning him thoroughly and testified. Each physician declared that Davis remembered dates and details of the time his gray-haired wife was found in an abandoned well June 15, about five miles northeast of Fordson, until Tuesday morning.

The physicians were: Dr. Hiram Castille, of Foreman; Dr. J. W. Ringgold, Dr. P. H. Phillips and Dr. C. A. Harding, all of Ashdown.

The special sanity hearing was called by Judge B. E. Isbell shortly after court convened after noon recess. The contention that Davis was of unsound mind and not able for trial was advanced by defense attorneys in their opening asking that Judge Isbell inquire into his sanity after the defendant appeared in the courtroom talking at random and calling his dead wife.

Sheriff J. G. Sanderson brought the first news of the peculiar condition of Davis immediately after the court convened, reporting that the defendant was acting peculiar, "like he was insane."

Keeps Up Chatter Brought into the courtroom, Davis kept up a constant chatter varying from his wife to numerous subjects, all of which were at random. In the afternoon, however, he was quiet and consulted with his attorney, frequently.

The motion asking that the man's sanity be investigated was regarded as an exploded bombshell in the plans of Prosecuting Attorney John J. Dulany, who has declared that an effort will be made to send the man to the electric chair. But after the verdict of the special jury was returned, it was regarded as the initial victory for Dulany.

Judge Isbell ordered the sheriff to summon a special venire of 50 men to report at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday. The regular panel was exhausted at 1:45 p. m. Tuesday, when the court was adjourned, either for cause or for convenience on the jury used in the sanity hearing.

Seeks Speedy Trial Dulany intimated that the state would make an effort to hold a speedy trial, having already announced ready to begin the case before the motion for insanity was introduced by the defense Tuesday morning.

Davis is charged with slaying his bride at an old vacant house near Foreman, and then flinging her body into an abandoned well nearby. The defendant had held a grim silence since his arrest, his only statement, which he made to officers, that he fell into the well while he was looking for wild apples to eat.

Looking for wild apples to eat, he gathered berries and blackberries. He told officers that the woman was drunk, by said.

The man is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, receiving a pension monthly. He is clad in the cloth of the American army at the county jail, where he has been kept since his wife's death.

Davis is an itinerant farmer, having moved from one community to another doing odd jobs on farms and camping in the woods for many years. He and his wife were on another one of his familiar jaunts when the tragedy occurred.

Woman Admits She Killed Her Cousin

Young Louisiana Woman Says She Fired in Self Defense

FERRIDAY, La., July 16.—Calmly relating the incidents which led to the fatal shooting of her first cousin, Sullivan Fairbanks Jr., 31, planter of Wildsville, at the Jonesville Ferry landing near Wildsville Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. M. L. Dobro, 23, of Shreveport, La., fired a full round of pistol shots into the face and body of Fairbanks following an attack upon her husband, M. L. Dobro, 34, machinist, and herself.

Fairbanks was killed on the bank of the Red, Black and Ouachita rivers, Mrs. Dobro said her cousin had pulled a pistol on her and her husband after he had attacked her and her husband in a store near the landing. The owner of the store, a man named Crane, and another man whom she knew as Davis, and several others, were waiting the arrival of the boat, she said. Mrs. Dobro and her husband are held by parish authorities pending investigation.

Obe McCoy, John Daniels and George Mixon Named in Bills

PRESCOTT, July 6.—Three indictments for first degree murder, made by the Nevada county grand jury, were announced Tuesday morning.

Obe McCoy was indicted for the killing of Mrs. Fell Phillips; John Daniels was indicted for killing Mildred Jobe, 15-year-old daughter of John Jobe, and George Mixon negro, was indicted for slaying O. D. Dempsey, another negro.

L. M. McDuffie, negro, was indicted for assault. The grand jury, which began its work Monday morning, has returned a number of other indictments, but only these four have been made public.

Circuit court took up the entire day Tuesday in trial of the case of W. G. Hays versus Grand Lodge of the State of Arkansas of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. Hays was awarded $1250 in a verdict returned by the jury late in the afternoon. Hays sought to recover $2240 as damages resulting from an alleged breach of contract on the part of the fraternal insurance order.

650 Men Fight Fire In Oregon Forest

More Than Ten Miles of Trenches Are Dug in One Day

BEMP, Ore., July 16.—(AP)—Six hundred and fifty men worked desperately on an 18-mile front Tuesday to control forest fires which in two days have laid waste about 5000 acres of timber in the Deschutes and Cascade national forests.

The forests were so shrouded in smoke it was impossible for lookouts to determine the progress of the fire. Last reports from the Three Sisters district, scene of the worst fire, said flames had moved into virgin yellow pine and had developed into a crown fire, burning the tree tops.

More than 10 miles of trenches were constructed Monday and Jack F. Campbell, assistant supervisor of the Deschutes national forest, said he hoped the fighters would be able to construct enough trenches to check the fire Tuesday.

Twenty-eight smaller fires were burning in Summit country from Williamsburg Pass north toward the Three Sisters. Forest officials believed all had been started by lightning.

Physician Reports Osceola Prisoners' Body Not Bruised

Death of Negro Convict Alleged to Have Been Mistreated Probed

FEELING RUNS HIGH

Officers Prevent Effort to Free All County Prisoners

MEMPHIS, July 16.—(AP)—Dr. J. A. McIntosh, Memphis physician, said today that his examination of the body of a negro, who it has been alleged was mistreated before dying at a county prison farm near Osceola, Arkansas, showed no signs of having been ill treated.

With armed citizens threatening to take possession of the county penal farm and to free the prisoners and burn the stockade unless county officials took some action to remedy conditions there, County Judge Geo. W. Barham Tuesday called a special session of the Mississippi county Quorum Court to convene Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

A considerable force of deputy sheriffs was kept in the vicinity of the county farm and it is not believed that violence is probable, especially in view of the action taken by Judge Barham.

The calling of the court is the result of the recent death of a negro at the county penal farm. The verdict of a coroner's jury said that death was caused "by a combination of wounds inflicted by some employee or inmate of the county farm and by heat prostration."

Members of the Quorum Court will discuss means of county supervision of the administration of the county penal farm. The court will hear the official report of an autopsy performed Sunday on the body of the prisoner, the results of which are said to be at divergence with the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Taxpayers League to Meet Judge Barham said the court was being called merely in an advisory capacity to the County Court and the County Prison Board, which is composed of four citizens who sit with the county judge.

A meeting of the Taxpayers Association has been called for the same date. The function of this association is that of advisory organization to the county court.

S. L. Gludish, prosecuting attorney, discounted rumors that a special session of the grand jury would be called to investigate charges against Roy and Henry Brinkley, who for the past six years have operated the county penal farm under contract with the county.

Doyle was quoted by officers as saying he and McCoy both had served terms in the Kansas and Arkansas state penitentiaries. Doyle officers said, admitted they planned to sell the goods at Little Rock.

Plans Shaping Up for Melon Fete

Brannan Starts Work on First Orders for 1930 Floats—Pageant Plans Rushed to Completion By Dr. Alexander

With the maids and queen contest in its second week, plans for the Fifth Annual Watermelon Festival are rapidly taking shape, and the committees in charge expect the event on August 7 to hit a new high record for attendance.

First arrangements for floats for this year's street parade will be made this week by A. D. Brannan, of Floral Hill Farm. Mr. Brannan handled the construction of the major floats last year, when the float parade was said to have surpassed in size and beauty anything seen in previous festivals.

Although the watermelon colors, pink and green, offer serious construction difficulties owing to the danger of colors fading quickly under the August sun, an attempt will be made this year to develop the watermelon motif in every float, according to Mr. Brannan.

Individual orders are being placed with Mr. Brannan now by local stores and other institutions, and next week he will open a downtown display room in which materials and designs will be assembled for inspection.

The greatest motor advertising feature of the festival—the colorful tire-cover which is used every year—is already widely distributed among local drivers. Two hundred and fifty covers were received last week by the publicity committee, and the bulk of them were sold by American Legion teams headed by Dewey Hendrix. The remainder are on sale at $1.30 apiece at local automobile shops and filling stations.

Dr. W. R. Alexander, chairman of the pageant committee, announced yesterday that he had completed the outline for this year's pageant, to be given on the Southwest Arkansas Fair Grounds. It will be a jubilee celebrating the watermelon harvest season, built around the theme song, "Happy Days—Melon Days Are Here Again!"

In the arrangement and staging of the pageant Dr. Alexander is being assisted by Matt Press, manager of the Publix-Saenger theatre.

Angered Because Family Refused To Leave, Slays Them

Stabbs His Wife and Stepdaughter in a Fit of Anger

SETS FIRE TO HOME

Begs Officers to Shoot Him As He Feared Electric Chair

RUSSELLVILLE, July 16.—(AP)—J. A. Coleman, 65, a fisherman, stabbed his wife and 22-year-old stepdaughter to death and then set fire to his home early today. When officers arrested him he begged them to shoot him as he feared the electric chair.

Another stepdaughter, Isabel Willis, who is nine years old told the officers that Coleman ordered his folks to leave home soon after they had gotten up this morning. When they refused to do this he became angry and first stabbed his stepdaughter Mrs. Delores Breeden, with a butcher knife, the young girl said.

He then went into the kitchen where his wife was preparing breakfast and struck her over the head. After striking her he stabbed her at least six times with the same butcher knife he used to stab his stepdaughter.

Sets Fire to Home After killing the two women he is alleged to have poured kerosene about the house and set it on fire.

Isabel fearing that she too might be killed seized her five-year-old nephew and fled to the nearest neighbors.

Officers were called and a search was immediately started for Coleman. He was later found hiding in a barn on the river. He at first refused to surrender to the officers, but finally decided to come out.

The home of the Coleman family is in North Dardanelle about four miles from Russellville.

Two Youths Held For Taking Money

Tried To Steal $1,000 in Gold From Their Grandfather

CONWAY, July 16.—(AP)—Two youths were arrested here Monday on information filed by their grandfather that they tried to steal $1,000 in gold, silver and currency he had concealed in a can in the attic of their home near Mt. Vernon.

Herschel Baker, 9, and Glen Baker, 17, are being held in jail here on charges of grand larceny preferred by their grandfather, David Baker, farmer. The date for preliminary hearing will be set later, officers said.

The grandfather, became suspicious when the boys appeared in possession of gold and large denomination bills and Herschel bought an automobile, notified authorities.

When Sheriff J. I. Summers arrested them they said the money belonged to their father who had buried it in the yard. The grandfather said their father died a victim of paralysis and left no money.

Business Women's Club Hold Meeting

County Treasurer, Miss
Lillie Middlebrook,
Was Hostess

Miss Lillie Middlebrook, county treasurer of Hempstead county, who is chairman of the Public Relations Committee of the Hope Business and Professional Women's Club, was hostess at the regular meeting of the club
yesterday evening at the Hotel Barlow.
Miss Middlebrook's avocation is floriculture and she used quantities of pink and red ranunculus roses and crepe myrtle for table decorations and the place cards were in Colonial motif, bearing the legend, "Do You Know That?" with some item of trite information on their backs, the reading of which provoked much comment.

Following the serving of a delicious
six-course dinner, Miss Middlebrook introduced Miss Mary Arnold who gave an interesting talk on "What is the Greatest Need of the Community."
Miss Arnold stated that she had asked a number of representative Hope citizens this question, receiving many replies but the general consensus seemed to be that our citizens need to practice a greater loyalty to moral standards. "But," asked Miss Arnold,
"If you could rub Aladdin's lamp and bring into being some one thing that Hope needs more than anything else,
what would you give us?" "Recreational facilities" was the response in a majority of instances. The development of Dyke springs as a free play ground; of the Fair Grounds; of the grounds, on which the city auditorium is located. All of these are municipally owned and present golden opportunity for development. "The need for wholesome amusement for those who either cannot afford or do not care to indulge in those requiring the expenditure of money, is one that any observant citizen may readily recognize,"
Miss Arnold said she was told.

The establishment of neighborhood croquet grounds was advocated; others would like to see a free golf course established; a new high school built,
while still others stressed the need for a swimming pool, a gymnasium and a municipal hospital.

Some hoped to see more factories attracted to Hope, thereby providing more employment and a large pay roll. Because of Hope's location and splendid rail facilities, this should be readily brought about.

Miss Arnold concluded her statements by quoting a prominent Hope man who said that our people need to develop an aggressive, progressive spirit. "We can't help conditions," he stated, "but we can create vision, courage and aggressiveness to combat adversities."

Miss Forrest Ruggles presented several splendid ideas whereby the "Ways

Lon Chaney Learns A Lot About Women

"Women are like other characters
—to play them you have to know them—and what man knows about women?"

The man who made this cynical statement recently was none other than Lon Chaney, who was attempting to explain the difficulty of the feminine characterization which he assumes as one of his disguises in "The Unholy Three," his first all-talking picture,
now being shown at the Saenger theatre by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

"When I first started rehearsals for my initial dialogue production, I fondly imagined that imitating an old woman's voice would be the hardest part of it," the star confided, "but as it turned out this was the least of my worries. What proved a stickler was getting the mannerisms, walk and gestures of a woman without exaggerating them to the point of absurdity. For, after all, my part did not call for a feminine burlesque but an exact woman's disguise."

"You see, when playing a male role, an actor can put himself into the place of the character whom he is portraying. He can think like that character and consequently he can talk and act like him. But a man can't think from a woman's viewpoint, even though novelists sometimes attempt
it. In such a case, the only thing an actor can do is to study and imitate.
And I really believe, getting down
the part of this woman disguise down

pat took more study and rehearsal
than any role I have ever played."

In "The Unholy Three," Chaney is seen as the ventriloquist, "Echo," who hides from the police in the feminine disguise. He not only uses two physical make-ups but also is heard in five different voice impersonations, even going so far as to make his "dummy" sing "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" in the side-show ventriloquist scenes.

Lila Lee plays opposite the star and Elliott Nugent has the juvenile role.
Harry Earles is seen as the midget
and Ivan Linow as the circus side show giant. Other members of the cast include John Miljan, Clarence Burton
and Crauford Kent.

The picture was directed by Jack Conway, producer of such successful films as Chaney's silent hit, "While the City Sleeps," "Twelve Miles Out" for John Gilbert, and "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

Jazz Party Opens Movie With a Bang

A jazz party in a boy's apartment is the opening scene in "The Girl From Woolworth's," which stars Alice White at the Grand theatre Thursday and Friday.

From this point the fun is fast and furious in this all-youth story with an all-youth cast.
Miss White plays a ten-cent store
clerk who eventually becomes a night club entertainer. She sings and dances again in "The Girl From Woolworth's" as she did in "Show Girl"

and "Broadway Babies."

Charles Delaney plays opposite the star, and William Beaudine directed it is a First National and Vitaphone picture.

Local Junk Dealer Held At Prescott

Eight Negroes Arrested Charged With Stealing Copper Wire

PRESCOTT, July 15.—Sheriff E. H. Weaver and his deputies Monday arrested Red Bailey, white junk dealer of Hope, and Walter Brewer, Percy Brewer, Monroe Sanders, Young Sanders, Tommie Jackson, R. Z. Haynie and Tire Irvin, negroes of Watson, and Tom Nelson, negro, of Hope, charged with grand larceny. The state charges that Bailey bought copper wire from the negroes knowing that it had been stolen and that the negroes removed the wire, amounting to more than 20,000 pounds, from the lines of the Arkansas Power and Light Company in the Nevada oil fields. The company has been missing wires from their poles since last Christmas. In most instances the wires were charged with 440 volts of electricity and officers believe parties not under arrest and who were experienced in handling electricity wires assisted in the removal.

The charges against the men are being investigated by the grand jury which convened here Monday.

» ANNOUNCING A NEW PLAN THAT FREES MEN FROM WORRY ABOUT THE FUTURE OF THEIR FAMILIES—THAT LIBERATES WOMEN AND CHILDREN FROM THE SPECTRE OF INSUFFICIENT INCOMES

LIGHT liberated men from Darkness. Education liberated men from Ignorance; Independence—from political Bondage; Science—from Superstition; Invention—from physical Slavery. And now THE LIBERATOR, a new form of guaranteed family income Life Insurance, liberates the average man from Fear and Worry about the financial independence of his family after he is gone. THE LIBERATOR is a new charter of freedom for women and children. It liberates them from the spectre of insufficient incomes. It takes up the burden when the earning power of husbands and fathers ceases with death. THE LIBERATOR is a remarkable new idea in life insurance. It creates a living income for the family at a cost the average man can afford. It cuts in half the cost of providing a monthly income. More—it pays the full face of the policy to the beneficiary after the children are grown—and it affords maximum protection to the insured himself while he is living.

Many leading American insurance companies are now writing similar policies. However, THE LIBERATOR contains provisions written only by the Home Life.

FOR EXAMPLE—
A $10,000 Policy Works Like This
Pays $100 a Month

to the beneficiary from the date of the death of the insured until 20 years from the date the policy was issued, providing a living income until the children are old enough to support themselves.

Pays $10,000 in Cash
to the beneficiary at the end of the income payments, to provide ample funds for a comfortable old age. If

LIBERAL FEATURES

- Guarantees adequate living income until children are grown, at a cost the average man can afford.
- Guarantees, in addition, the full face value of the policy in cash to beneficiary to provide a comfortable old age.
- Provides maximum protection of $48,550.00 ($10,000 face value policy).
- If death is accidental, provides $10,000 cash and $100 a month for 20 years from the date the policy was issued, and then an additional $10,000.
- Provides income of $100 a month to the insured ($10,000 policy) if he becomes totally and permanently disabled.
- Pays the face value of the policy to the insured if the beneficiary is killed while riding in or on any public or private conveyance—policy continuing in full force.
- Liberates a man from worry about the future of his family and leaves him free to make other profitable investments.
- Premium deposits are about half those required, to produce same monthly income through old forms of insurance.
- Issued in amounts to provide incomes of $50 to $500 a month.

the beneficiary prefers, she may draw a guaranteed income for life of $48.50 a month (300 monthly payments minimum guaranteed) instead of the cash payment of $10,000. If the insured dies within one month from issuance of the policy, the total of $100 monthly income payments would be $24,000. The policy would then pay $10,000 in cash—making a grand total of $34,000. If the beneficiary chose the $48.50 life income payments instead of the $10,000 cash payment, this grand total would reach at least $38,550.

Pays $100 a Month
to the insured if he becomes totally and permanently disabled, pays his premiums for him and pays $10,000 to his beneficiary when he dies.

Pays $10,000 in Cash
to the insured if the beneficiary is accidentally killed while riding in or on any public or private conveyance—policy continuing in full force.

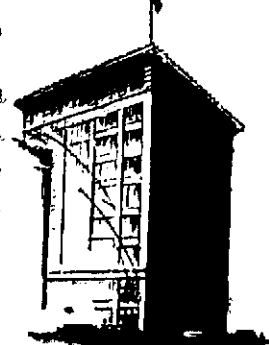

Pays Double Indemnity
if the insured is accidentally killed—pays $10,000 cash and $100 a month to the beneficiary beginning at the death of the insured, until 20 years from the date the policy was issued and then an additional $10,000 cash or a monthly income of $48.50 for the life of the beneficiary with 300 monthly payments guaranteed. Total payments may amount to as much as $48,550.

THE LIBERATOR is founded on the safety factors that are the basis of ordinary life, 20-payment life and other familiar forms of life insurance. It provides loan, cash surrender, paid-up and extended insurance values in the same manner as other forms. But it goes far beyond them for the man who is faced with the problem of providing an adequate income for his family after he is gone.

Get all the facts about this remarkable new policy. Without obligation, ask any Home Life representative to explain all the features and quote the rates for your age. Or write directly to the Company.

Woman Charms Animals of Wilds With Her Girlhood Vocal Calls

GLACIER PARK, Mont., July 15.—Every boy knows if you whistle you can stop a rabbit almost abruptly in its tracks, but you've got to put the right tone into your whistle or you're apt to scare the rabbit and make it run all the faster.

Arthur Newton Pack, president of the American Nature Association, with his wife, recently made some interesting observations of the effect of "human calls" on larger wild animals while on a trip through the more inaccessible regions of Glacier National Park. "We encountered some coyotes," Mr. Pack said, "and Mrs. Pack immediately began a sort of yowling whine, which she claims to be one of her girlhood accomplishments. Two of the coyotes stopped about thirty yards away. One sat down on his haunches and cocked his ears like a police dog, as if listening to pleasant music. He stayed this way until Mrs. Pack ran out of breath; then, the coyote being over, he trotted off after his companions. While I do not believe that the coyote actually came nearer, at least he ceased to run away, and he was near enough to make an excellent photograph, had the light been good enough, which, of course, it wasn't."

"Subsequently, we encountered a bob-cat. In this case Mrs. Pack tried a sort of yowling meow, and it worked very well indeed—so well that she was able with her camera in hand to approach within thirty feet of the wild cat. When ever Mrs. Pack came nearer, the bob-cat would trot off a few paces and then sit down and look at her again. They kept this up until they reached the edge of some dense underbrush at which place Mrs. Pack began to recite stories of cornered wild-cats and abruptly turned and started back to the road. The picture wasn't very good, because Mrs. Pack was so busy meowing and watching the cat that she didn't realize how near she actually approached it, and forgot to change the focus of the camera accordingly. At any rate, I was witness to both of these little affairs."

Lime Important To County Soils

No Cheaper Soil Builder
Can Be Secured
Than Lime

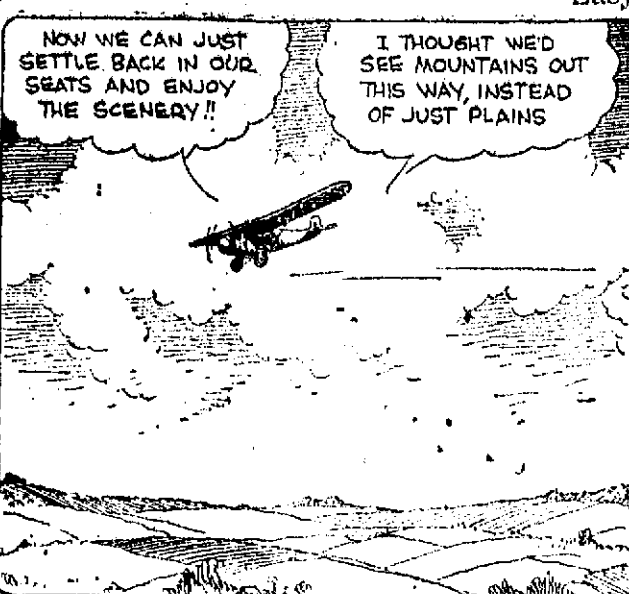

Folks and fields need lime. The farmer in Hempstead county who wakes money at his business is a man who makes maximum crops. High crop yields are impossible on sour soil according to county agent Lynn Smith. For best results the lime we use should be used to grow crops like sweet clover, soybeans, cowpeas, vetch, etc., because these crops improve the soil by adding nitrogen, and they make the best feed for livestock.

It is that Hempstead county moved the first solid train load of agricultural lime ever moved in Arkansas, but the 800 tons of lime in that train load was not ever a starter for what the county needs.

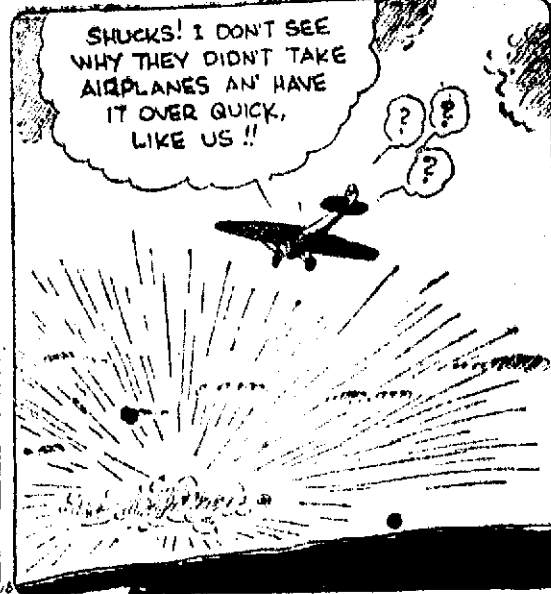

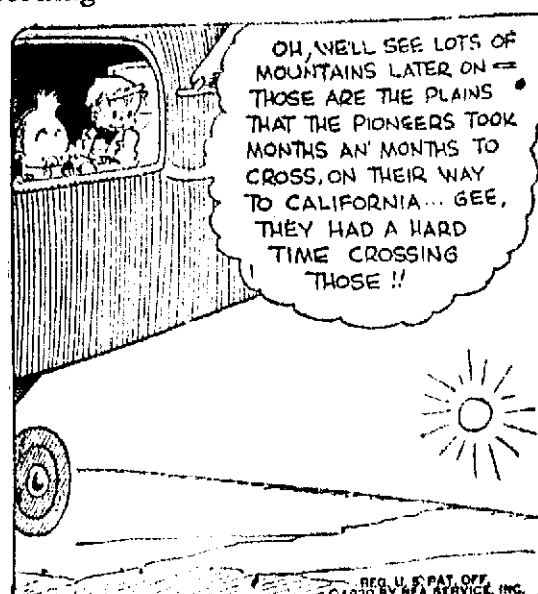

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

FRECKLES AND OSCAR ARE PICKED UP BY RILEY, WHO IS DELIVERING A PLANE IN THE FAR WEST.

Easy, According to Oscar

The counties in the state of Kentucky, where there were county agents used 247,405 tons of lime last year. That would have made 300 train loads like we unloaded in Hempstead county last year. The state of Illinois used 741,326 tons during the year 1928.

These states have seen the importance of lime enough until they are using it as we do commercial fertilizer here. It has been asserted by some authorities on the subject that a dollar invested in lime would return as much as ten dollars invested in commercial fertilizer. This fact does not discount the value of fertilizer intelligently used, but it does indicate that we are not aware of the real value of lime.

Terraces, lime, legumes, and livestock will build up this old depleted soil of ours which is the true cause

Lime occupies an extremely important place in any soil improvement program.

Those who are interested in getting lime should get in touch with the county agent at the earliest convenience. Why not haul home some lime when you bring in a load of melons or other truck and usually drive home empty? Fall is the time of year to apply lime; then it has time to be come available by next spring.
